FIGHT NIGHT SATURDAY 25TH OCTOBER 2008

What a huge success it was and I can say without a doubt it is the most successful and enjoyable event I have ever put on and would like to thank everyone who attended, helped or fought for making this the first of hopefully many of it's kind.

A few people deserve a special mention again. First of all Gareth Floyd for doing such wonderful rope-work on our ring.

Justann Crawford for being so generous with his time and skill and for not embarrassing me too much.

Keshni for bringing her massage table and donating her time in warming up the competitors.

Neil Smith also a former Australian champion and Justann did a great job in controlling the fights and ensuring no-one was hurt.

Although paid for her trouble a special mention should go Cassie who did such a wonderful job selling raffle tickets and came with such a wonderful innocent enthusiasm that she won our hearts I think.

I would like to thank all those competitors that put on such a great show and I think they all learnt an awful lot from the event.

If possible I would like to see a whole new set of competitors for next year with the evening being a kind of 'rite of passage' for those making their journey to black shirt.

Although I know disappointed I think Ben was a worthy of the title belt for the courage he showed in trying to continue but was wise not to try beyond what was sensible.

I am already looking forward to next year and I particularly liked that people matched up with each other without my input. The ensuing sportsmanship from this is exactly the culture that is inherent to Joe's Boxing.

Finally thanks to all those that came it was fantastic!

More Mundine Mouth extract from Sydney Morning Herald 9th November

Of Danny Green's failure to act on a massive offer for a rematch: "Danny is the dodger of dodgers. He should forget about being on that silly dancing show and spend his time at a carnival driving dodgem cars. That's what he is good at. His manager wants the rematch. He knows it's an offer that is too good to refuse but he thumbs his nose.

"I'll fight him at any weight he wants in his backyard but he just delays and delays. He should move out of Perth and live in Dodge City."

Of Joe Calzaghe: "He says I can't punch but he runs faster than [Usain] Bolt. He knows what I'd do to him and he knows the money is there to fight me but he won't let me in. He's afraid I'd show him up."

And of his latest targets, middleweight champions Kelly Pavlik, Felix Sturm and Daniel Geale: "The money is there for them but they've been schooled by Danny Green Dodgers."

The grading process is evolving and being more formalized which really means it's getting harder and the standard is lifting and the standard required for each level more defined. This is a really good thing and makes that Black Shirt a real achievement.

Several people were awarded Black shirts on fight night as well as a red shirt and blue shirt. I would like to see this tradition continue.

Great show great job!

Black Shirt	Oscar Garcia Patrick Hofmeister Daniel Midghall Ben Duffy Adrian McCabe
Red Shirt	Brendan Janssen
Blue Shirt	Matt Conacher

OUTSIDE OF OUR RING

Kelly Pavlic had his first loss to the amazing Bernard Hopkins. Unfortunately I didn't see the fight but Bernard Hopkins obviously did an amazing job at negating Pavlics style and youth and came up with a unanimous decision. Jones bloodied, beaten by undefeated Calzaghe

New York, NY (Sports Network) - Welshman Joe Calzaghe took advantage of a gory cut above the left eye of Roy Jones Jr. and likely finished his career unbeaten by scoring a 12-round unanimous decision Saturday night at Madison Square Garden. Calzaghe now 46-0 will probably retire after beating both Hopkins and Jones and ironically being knocked down in the first round and then winning convincingly on points. While at the RSL watching I ran into former student Byron McSweeney who October 19th won the NSW light heavy Amateur title again (Official result below) Unfortunately Byron missed out on the Olympic trials as a severe flu affected his performance. He has been sparring Sakio Bika (contender) & is now going to live in England and focus on the world championships to be held there next year but has promised to pay us a visit before he goes.

Light Heavy 81kg FINAL - 3 x 2 Dale McDonald (Westside) vs. Byron McSweeney (Burwood)
Winner: Blue - Byron McSweeney - PTS 31:17
